

The Mudpit

The mudpit is a hit with all age groups. These high schoolers haven't allowed themselves to get that messy in years. Stepping out of their comfort zone during recreation helps set the stage for openness during chapel and small group time.

Hay Rack Rides

A local farmer treated our day campers to hay rack rides pulled by his beautiful Percheron horses. We try to give our campers unique, fun experiences throughout their week of camp. Building these positive memories creates a love for camp, for God, for His creation, and for His plan for our lives.

A Princess and A Toad

God is revealed through His Word and through His creation. Camp is a great place to connect to God through fireflies, wildflowers, and yes, even toads.

Soap-Slide

Daniel threw himself into the fun of the soap-slide and also gave his best effort in the serious, more important aspects of camp. He was one of 8 high school students who attended Servant And Leader Training camp. This three week program gives each camper education about how God wired them for service and an opportunity to work in various areas of camp ministry.

Devo Girl

I love to see campers spread out all over camp with their Bibles open on their laps or their head bowed in prayer. Camp is definitely a fun place to get serious about our relationship with God.

Cardboard Boat Race

Teams were given a pile of cardboard and some duct tape. They built their vessels during free time and then we held a big race towards the end of the camp session. Honestly, the vast majority of boats didn't make it. Tipping and sinking was much more popular than paddling to the finish.

Egg-Drop Contest

The egg-drop contest has become a tradition at Family Camp. This year teams really took advantage of the provided supplies and protected their raw egg from drops as high as 45 feet! The winners from Family Camp session 1 are shown with the trophy.

1 to One - A Challenge to Farmers and Land Owners

Through the "1 to One" program, we are asking farmers and land owners to use the proceeds from one acre of land this year for an offering to the One who is the Lord of the harvest. If you are not a farmer you can participate by spreading the word, praying that many farmers will choose to give "1 to One," and you can give a financial gift too. If you want to participate, call the office or stop by. We will provide an envelope so you can tell us how you want to join "1 to One."

Waterfront Improvement Project Update

Digging, clearing trees and brush, and new retaining walls will continue through the fall. A lake neighbor who is also a building contractor, a local farmer with a great little trac-hoe, a Fort Dodge welder, and long time camp supporters from Tri-View Steel in Sioux City have all given of their time and materials to get the project where it is today. Although we did not get the new slide in place for this summer, it is still in process. We have decided to redesign the slide to make the entrance to the water more horizontal. There will be more cost upfront, but it will have a lifespan of many decades. Please consider partnering with us in the waterfront project this month so that we can get the slide finished.

Men's Weekend - G3M

September 30 - October 2, 2011

G3M is a weekend to challenge men to rise to the occasion and glorify God with their entire life. This is all about Biblical manhood. Men, you need to be here. And bring some younger men with you—sons, nephews, neighbors. The overwhelming response from the men who came last year was, "I needed this more than I thought I did."

Spiritual Parenting Weekend

October 7-9, 2011

Twin Lakes Bible Camp is committed to helping families learn how to effectively pass their Christian faith to their children so that it becomes their own. Spiritual Parenting is a book and DVD curriculum written by Michelle Anthony. Scott and Jane Larsen will be facilitating this curriculum in 6 sessions from 7 pm Friday night through mid afternoon on Sunday. Lodging and meals included for $139 per person or $269 for a couple. For those staying off-site, the cost is $85 per person and includes meals.

Camp Needs A Car!!!

It doesn't have to be pretty. It doesn't have to have bells and whistles. If it can reliably get camp staff to the bank and post office and an occasional road trip to visit a church or college campus, we would gladly provide you with a tax deduction. The need is urgent. The camp car has given its resignation.
